The Net Connection

The recent developments at Amiga are enough to get any Amiga fan smiling. But it seems that, other than that good news, there isn't a lot of news out there. This month's entries seem a little light in comparison to other recent months.

In addition to the articles printed here, this month's web site will feature information on the upcoming upgrade to the venerable Amiga archiver, LhA. And, of course, I'll have my software (and picture) choices for the month as well. Downloads of my monthly favorites are available at the web site throughout the month.
