AGM Show Announced Our 14th annual computer show

I am pleased to announce the club's fourteenth annual computer show.

Date: Saturday October 14
Time: 12:00 PM until 4:00 PM
Place: The Brookside Convention Center
Cost: Free

DIRECTIONS & PARKING

The Brookside Convention Center is located at 1244 Brookside Drive in Hurst. To get to the Convention Center get to Highway 183/121 and take the Precinct Line Road exit and drive south on Precinct Line Road. After approximately 0.3 miles turn left (east), on Bedford Euless Road. Drive 0.4 miles to Brookside Drive. The Convention Center is on the southeast corner.

FLEA MARKET

The flea market will be open to members for a fee of 5% on items sold. A fee of 10% will be charged to non-members on items sold. The club is considering letting members and non-members having tables of their own for a small fee. Flea market forms will be available at the July chapter meetings. Items will be collected during chapter meetings beginning in August. If you cannot attend a meeting, contact a designated collector. A list of collectors will be in the July newsletter.

OTHER ATTRACTIONS

We will have a door prize drawing at the end of the show. You need to be present to win. The club's software library for the Amiga will be available to members. A special on memberships will be offered: thirteen months for the price of twelve. We also hope to have a few computers set up so you can ask the club's resident gurus for help and advice.

Your assistance is necessary to make the show a success. If you can help, call me at metro (972) 299-6824, or leave email at mstodola@airmail.net.

15 Years Ago From the MCCC News

On May 10-12, Commodore wizard, James Butterfield, came to the Metroplex under the sponsorship of the MCCC and Scope User Groups. Meeting at the Western Hills Inn, the events included an informal banquet, an entertaining lecture and learning sessions on topics from file handling to machine language. We were also introduced to the new C128 by Pete Baczor (Commodore's User Group Coordinator) who also provided answers to a variety of questions from the floor. Perhaps the most important piece of information we learned was the toll-free phone number for Customer Support: 1-800-247-9000.

Expense Report Summary:

Total Expenses	$2694
Income (ticket sales)	2105
Net Cost	$589

Corel and Amiga Major support for the new Amiga

Snoqualmie, WA, April 1, 2000 — Amiga Incorporated, is pleased to announce that its new multi-media consumer interface is well supported by Corel LINUX OS and other Corel applications including the newly released WordPerfect Office 2000 for Linux.

Amiga's multi-media consumer interface runs extremely smooth and fast on Corel LINUX OS, and the compatibility between these great products has provided Linux developers with a new and exciting way to create incredible multi-media titles, and games for Linux.

"Amiga pioneered the creation of multi-media, and easy to use graphical interfaces 20 years ago, and today begins the path of the reintroduction of a legend. The New Amiga is the creation and embrace of leading technologies and combining them with the 20 years of experience in multi-media development environments," said Bill McEwen, president and chief executive officer of Amiga. "Corel has leading products within their categories, and we are excited about their supporting Amiga towards the future."

"Linux developers now have choices when it comes to leading edge applications," added McEwen.

"Corel is dedicating extensive resources to develop Linux, and receiving such a positive endorsement based on Amiga's experience with our products is tremendous," said Dr. Michael Cowpland, president and chief executive officer of Corel Corporation. "Corel takes pride in producing quality products, and we are thrilled to provide our Corel LINUX OS to Amiga's world-class systems. We look forward to working with Amiga as they continue developing products and technology for current and future computing devices which are focused on making computers and the Internet a natural part of everyday life."

Corel and Amiga first announced they were working closely to support the new Amiga Operating Environment in July 1999. The two companies formed a new relationship to ensure that Corel's award-winning software applications were supported on Amiga's new line of products. Corel and Amiga continue to discuss possible future alliances.

There will be full support for the existing install base of
